

1ST CONSTITUTIONAL AND COLLECTIVE BARGAINING CONVENTION
TORONTO | AUGUST 20-24

A BETTER WORLD IS POSSIBLE
re-energize | re-organize | re-think

// This is the most important moment for our union in a generation. //

— CAW National President Ken Lewenza

In a few weeks, over one thousand CAW members will gather in Toronto for the 1st ever Constitutional and Collective Bargaining Convention.

Elected delegates to the convention will debate current issues, strategize on how to tackle critical challenges and shape our union's bargaining and political action agenda for the future.

This will also be an historic convention, as delegates will vote on a proposal to create the largest private sector union in Canada, in solidarity with the Communications, Energy and Paperworkers Union (CEP) – a move that would mark the largest ever coming together of unions in Canadian history.

YOU CAN BE A PART OF IT!

WATCH THE WEBCAST, IN REAL TIME, and receive live updates from the Convention floor of the Sheraton Centre Hotel.
